CUBAN TROOPS OUT TO STAMP OUT TERRORISM

Seventeen Bombs Exploded First Day Of "Red Week"

Havana, Cuba, April 14—(AP)—Troops were called to stamp out terrorism today after 17 bomb explosions killed one person and injured three or four.

The blasts came yesterday and last night on the heels of several anonymous letters to police headquarters warning that yesterday would start "red week in Havana."

Cavalry was called out after police had started a roundup of persons suspected of terroristic tendencies and opposition to the rule of President Machado. The mounted troops patrolled Galiano street, while throughout the city automobiles were stopped at gunpoint and searched.

Child Was Killed

One bomb exploded not far from the new home of Orestes Ferrara, former Ambassador to the United States and now Secretary of State in the Machado government.

It was hidden in a fruit vendor's wagon and it killed three-year-old Jose Montano. Three men were reported seriously injured in this and other blasts.

Shooting started when police said they found Manuel Garcia, 19, placing a bomb at a street corner. Garcia was probably fatally wounded. The bombings were attributed by police to political terrorism.

Guard Daniels' Train In Mexico

Laredo, Texas, April 14—(AP)—The train bearing Josephus Daniels to Mexico City to assume his post as Ambassador to the southern republic crossed the international boundary here early today.

Daniels was asleep when the train entered Nuevo Laredo, the Mexican city across the Rio Grande. A special car was awaiting him there and it was hooked on to the train. Railway officials said he would occupy it when he awakened.

Six Mexican Secret Service agents sent from Mexico City to escort him boarded the train. It was reported the guard would be increased after the train reaches Monterrey.

Threatened Communist demonstrations against his appointment led to assignment of a guard. Vera Cruz where Daniels was Secretary of the Navy in the Wilson administration were reported to be the basis of the Communist protest.

Trial on the first indictment had been placed on the calendar for next Monday but when Mitchell pleaded today United States Attorney George Z. Medaris announced he would move on Monday to consolidate the two indictments.

Over the protest of Max D. Steuer, counsel for Mitchell, Federal Judge Frank J. Coleman thereupon set April 24 as the date for trial.

Enlisting agencies to date have chosen young unemployed men willing to assign most of the money they get for the benefit of their families.

More than 10,000 already have been enrolled for the two weeks conditioning period by the army before they go to the camps. Most of them have already gone through their preliminary training.

New York, April 14—(AP)—Eladio Valdes, little 27-year-old Negro boxer who fought in the ring under the name of "Black Bill," died today in Harlem hospital of a self-inflicted bullet wound in the stomach.

Dispirited by failing eyesight, which he traced back to an unsuccessful fight incident of a ring encounter two years ago when an opponent allegedly rubbed resin in his eye, Valdes shot himself Saturday in his Harlem apartment.

Valdes had been practically without funds for the last two years. A benefit boxing card was put on for him a year ago at a New York club.

Afflicted Child's Father Reconciled—

Hastings, N. Y., April 14—(AP)—The barricade was raised today at the humble home of little Helen Vasco, whose parents had threatened to pour boiling water on anyone who sought to bring medical attention to the child.

John Vasco, the father, announced that he was reconciled to having a tumor removed from Helen's left eye even though the operation cost the sight of that eye, if the Appellate division of the Supreme Court upholds an order of the Children's Court directing the operation.

"The law knows best," he said after removing the barricade from his front door. "If law says take child's eye I say all right."

He disclosed, however, that although he was resigned to the operation his wife was still obdurate. He said he stayed home from work today to try to convince her.

LOUISIANIANS WANT KINGFISH SENATOR OUSTED

Petition Filed In U. S. Senate Calls Huey Dishonest

Washington, April 14—(AP)—The Senate today referred to its Judiciary committee the question whether charges contained in a petition of Louisiana citizens seeking the ousting of Senator Long of that state were "privileged" for publication.

Senator Long, Louisiana Democrat, who said the charges presented to the Senate yesterday were so much "claptrap," said he would not sign the petition, like all others sent the Senate and referred to committees, was privileged and newspapers publishing it could not be sued, but that the matter should be determined by the Judiciary committee.

Washington, April 14—(AP)—A petition, filed by a score of citizens of his state, asking removal from the Senate of Huey P. Long, self-styled Louisiana "Kingfish," on charges of personal dishonesty and corruption was before the Elections committee today.

Chairman George of that committee said that if the petition contained anything that "goes to the right" of Long to hold his seat a "proper investigation" would be made.

Long said: "I don't know anything about it and I don't care." The petitioners included mostly farmers from St. Francisville, Laurel Hill, Bains, Wilson and Pictenberg. They said similar petitions, and asserted they could prove by witnesses that Long was "personally dishonest, corrupt and immoral." His continuance in office, they added, was "repulsive to the respectable and law-abiding citizens of Louisiana and to the nation."

BIDS ON CEMENT WILL BE TURNED DOWN BY HORNER

May Issue Statement And Ask For An Investigation

BULLETIN

Springfield, Ill., April 14—(AP)—Gov. Horner today ordered the rejection of resubmitted bids from cement companies for sale of 3,300,000 barrels of cement to the state.

It was learned by The Associated Press from an authoritative source that the Department of Public Works and Buildings had refused to consider the present bids as the companies had failed to comply with specifications.

The state previously rejected the bids of the cement companies after Governor Horner had expressed his amazement at the "startling unanimity" of price. The average bid submitted at that time was $1.62 a barrel as compared with 90 cents a barrel charged a year ago.

It is expected that Horner, who will issue a statement on the rejection of the bids today, will push a legislative investigation of the cement situation in the state.

Two proposals for the investigation are now before the General Assembly. One such resolution has been passed by the House and now awaits further action in the Senate Executive committee. The other was introduced in the Senate and is also in the Executive Committee.

ATTY. GENERAL DOES NOT DISAPPROVE THON ACT

Bill Would Require Treatment Of Eyes Of New Born

Springfield, Ill., April 14—(AP)—In a twelve-page opinion to Gov. Horner, Attorney General Otto Kerners today said he would not be justified in declaring unconstitutional the Thon bill to require as a preventative for blindness, the treatment of new-born babies' eyes with a silver nitrate solution.
Horner is expected to act soon on the bill, which is similar to one measure vetoed at the last session. "I regard it very close to the line that divides a valid health measure regulation from a regulation which, while it assumes the form of a police regulation, is in fact an arbitrary invasion of the personal liberty of the individual, guaranteed by the constitution of this state," Kerners said.
The bill, sponsored by the Illinois Society for the Prevention of

ARBITRATION OF FARM DEBTS IS STATE PLAN

Committees In Every County To Attempt Conciliation

Springfield, Ill., April 14—(AP)—Official action to arbitrate the mortgage debts of Illinois farmers started today with the first meeting of a state-wide committee of nine appointed by Gov. Henry Horner.

Representing farmer-debtors and investors in rural land, the committee started the organization of voluntary conciliation groups which are to negotiate mortgage adjustments in the 102 counties.

"It is hoped that deserving farmers may be enabled to retain their holdings by pay what would amount to normal rental," said Walter W. McLaughlin, Director of the state Department of Agriculture.

"This would tide them over the present emergency and would reduce materially, we believe, the number of farm foreclosures which have had an adverse effect on general conditions not alone in Illinois, but in the other agricultural states."

County Committees
McLaughlin announced that county sub-committees, to serve without pay, will be appointed soon.

"There are many farmers in Illinois, who, because of the exceedingly low prices prevailing for farm products, cannot meet their mortgage payments," McLaughlin stated.

"The state-wide conciliatory committee, and its county sub-committees, will negotiate agreements between mortgage holders and hard-pressed farmers who have displayed a willingness to meet their obligations."

"It is not the purpose of the committee to disturb in the slightest the credit structure of agriculture."

The Governor launched the conciliation project after asking, as one of his first official acts, that foreclosure action be avoided wherever possible.

A bill to authorize a moratorium on real estate foreclosures for two years is before the House of Representatives. It received an overwhelming endorsement this week when an attempt was made to kill it.

EASTER
By Lela E. Bracy
(In Detroit Free Press)
SPRING day in the morning:
The dew is warm and sweet, Gray mists run from the rising sun—
Pale phantoms in retreat.

A young breeze, perfume-laden,
Soft quiet promise filled,
Swift shattered by a golden shower
From quivering bird throat spilled.

So Easter's gift renewing
The light that cannot cease
To be, though world forgotten, Brings
The healing touch of peace.

Though souls travail in darkness,
Yet does the earth endure;
The glory of the morn shall be
Of night's dim torture cure.

The world's way is a good way—
Earth seems to Heaven drawn
When Hope to weary hearts is born
In the hushed Easter dawn.

Black Lace Has Flare For Charm

Romantic and Alluring for Those Summer Evenings

By JOAN SAVOY
NEA Service Writer

Approaching summer sends a woman's thoughts to moonlit evenings, dreamy waiters and just what she should wear to look appealing and romantic.

Probably nothing holds the glamour that the right diaphanous black lace gown does.

Get a circle lace and the effect is irresistible. There's something so flattering about the contrast of crisp, sheer black with gleaming flesh. And black always has a mysterious, sophisticated allure that no other color carries with it.

Wide Shoulders
The newest evening things do marvelous things to shoulders. They manage to achieve that wide shouldered effect that flatters your hips and waistline without being the least bit heavy.

Instead of puffed sleeves this summer, pert, trifling capes flare out over your shoulders, on some of the better new gowns.

One particularly enchanting black gown is of circle lace, in an exquisite design. It fits the body snugly, with a tremendous flare below the hips, giving real width to the skirt at the floor. When you dance, you have the pleasure of billowing lace about your feet with the satisfaction of knowing that you look slim and graceful through the body.

The neckline "Cape" is new and interesting. V-shaped both from front and back, there are two little capes that give a wide-shouldered effect.
The under one covers the shoulders, has slits to show your arm a little bit and the outside part flares out in enchanting manner over your upper arm.

The top cape is a detachable trifle, fastening at the throat with a handsome rhinestone and green buckle, which has its counterpart in the glittering matching buckle at the belt.

You'll feel as if you had a dress with sleeves on it, in this black costume. Yet there's something frivolous about capes that actual sleeves seldom catch. Just that little something that adds zest to this black lace dress and will give you the satisfaction of knowing you are dashing and different.

New Hats Mean New Coiffures Topknot hats have developed one-sided coiffures that are very new and attractive.

It's what you do with your back hair that counts, these days.

One new style of hairdressing parts the hair on the right side, has a soft, wide wave over both ears and then the back hair is swirled over to the left side where it ends in the little flat curls you wear one of the new coiffure combs slanting across the back of your head, to hold the swirl. A glittering one is grand for evening.

A second one-sided coiffure parts itself nearer the center, on the right side. The left front is brushed back from the forehead, curves in waves down over the left ear. The right part of the front has a few little bangs that curl to the right side. The rest of the right hair waves down over the ear like the other side.

For the woman who doesn't curl her hair, there is a one-sided effect that is obtained by merely swirling all the right back hair over to the left side. It is similar to the first coiffure except that the ends merely are smoothed in to give the entire head a very neat, round appearance, with no loose ends whatsoever. Very soft, waves over the ears are smoothed in place too, with no curled ends.

For all of these new coiffures hair must be a trifle longer than the regulation bob. Two inches in the back can be taken up by curls easily. And even the slightest wave pulls up your hair. So don't have it cut too short. No shorn lock is good this year.

The collection of refuse costs
London $4,000,000 annually.

Many Happy Days With the New Wonder Package

The introduction of a new special service to women of considerable interest during these trying times. An entirely new and very simple method of transferring patterns has been perfected, and now can be obtained by women anywhere.

Patch work quilt patterns, appique, cross-stitch, silhouettes, children's pictures of objects they love, beautiful embroidery patterns in the most comprehensive collection ever made, 800 new and exclusive designs in one package, also three alphabets—Script, Old English and Japanese in three sizes of letters.

Just select your design from the collection, rub the bowl of a tablespoon over the moistened surface, and like magic, you have the design transferred to your cloth-wood, paper, or any surface you desire to decorate. So easy that even a child can do it, and they love to transfer the special children's patterns to the leaves of a scrap book to be painted or colored with crayons later.

Each pattern can be used 12 times and the uses are so diverse, and the number so great that it is not even exaggerating to say the Wonder Package contains a lifetime supply of patterns.

This illustration shows you the pictures of the patterns found on just one-half of one of the big sheets. There are 12 large sheets, some containing as many as 20 designs on a half page.

If you use the pattern on cloth for embroidering, you will be very pleased also to know that the transfer washes out easily, which was not true of the old indelible ink transfers made with the hot iron.

Try the daisy spray on a delicate pastel tinted negligee. Work in dainty colors using lazy daisy and French knot stitches. Turn edges with val lace, and you will have a delicately beautiful garment.

The gracefully shaped French Basket Design is a thing of beauty either in embroidery or painted on wood, paper, or parchment, with its bouquet of Canterbury Bells and other blossoms done in colors.
To know these designs is to love them. Get the package and if you are not doing hand work of any kind now, it will be a satisfaction to have a supply on hand when you need it in the future.

You can have the package mailed to you for $1.00, but if you call for it is only 88c. This Wonder Package may be had at the Dixon Evening Telegraph office.

The Dixon Evening Telegraph
Enclosed please find $1.00 for which I wish you would send me the patterns.

NEW DEAL TO BRING MANY CHANGES.

Even more interesting than the legislative measures now pending in Congress, in some ways, are the rumors of legislation to be asked in the near future.

Washington seems to be full of these rumors. The capital, evidently, has decided that the present is a moment when anything at all can happen and probably will. Some of the rumors are trial balloons, some are clever deductions and some are outright guesses; but their cumulative effect is tremendous.

Thus we have one correspondent writing that Mr. Roosevelt's "little cabinet"—the well-known "brain trust" of professional advisers—is drawing up plans to have the government lease marginal coal lands and retire them from production, just as the pending farm bill would do with marginal farm lands.

Miss Frances Perkins, labor secretary, replies "I most certainly do" when asked by a senator if she favors the compulsory 30-hour week for industry—and leaves one wondering just how long it will be before Congress is asked to transform this expression of opinion into law.

Simultaneously, it is reported that the administration's railroad plan, when finally put into shape, will call for something very much resembling outright government operation of the roads.

Add all of these things to the astounding venture of the farm bill, to the reshaping of the nation's banking structure, to the government's implied determination to reduce such titanic figures as J. P. Morgan to the size of ordinary mortals, and it becomes clear that the administration is aiming at the most complete imaginable departure from traditional practices.

SUFFRAGE IN TIN CANS.

The influence that a prosaic industrial device can have on social customs is strikingly illustrated by the recent statement of Prof. William F. Ogburn of the University of Chicago to the effect that the invention of the tin can was at least partly responsible for getting American women the vote.

"It first led to canning factories," he remarks, "then it reduced the time in preparing meals in the home; it thus gave women more time for activities outside the home, including participation in the movement for woman's rights and the suffrage."

All of which, apparently, indicates that the inventor and the industrialist frequently accomplish a good deal more than they intend to when they put a new product on the market.

MAN'S HOME HIS FORTRESS.

One of the ways in which we can tell that life and property were insecure in the dim days of the very distant past is by the fact that each dwelling, in those days, was built like a miniature fortress. It lacked windows opening on the street, and was built so that its occupants could withstand a miniature siege from pillaging bands of freebooters.

This fact, somehow, is brought to mind by the news that model houses now being planned in some German cities contain gas-proof cellars, in which the occupants can seek safety in case of gas attack by hostile airplanes in time of war.

Will not such houses speak to future generations as plainly as the fortress-like houses of the dark ages speak to us today?

The gentlemen of the Senate and the House realized, as all sensible people do, that endeavors to meet deficits by borrowing are like giving drink to cure drowsy.—Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., retiring governor-general of the Philippines.

So far as the army is concerned, we have too many bureaus already and we could spare six or eight of them with advantage to the national defense and to the joy of the taxpayer.—Johnson Hagood, major general commanding the Eighth Corps Area.

If modern psychologists would not use so many lofty words and would stick to common sense we would benefit greatly.—Prof. Frank D. Whalen of Hunter College.

The voice must make up for facial expression, gesture, personal attributes and appearance.—Dr. William J. O'Shea, New York school superintendent.

If there had not been a whitewash of the Shenandoah investigation, the Akron might now be safe and her crew alive.—Capt. Anton F. Heiman, Zeppelin builder.

Tax—everybody for everything. But take hungry men off the world's pavements, and let the people smile again.—Bernard M. Baruch, financier.

The mechanization of industry today has made mandatory the adoption of the 30-hour week principle.—Senator Frederick Van Nuys of Indiana.

No one can hide from himself the gravity of the situation in Europe if the disarmament conference breaks down.—Henry de Jouvenel, French ambassador to Italy.

THE TINY TITANITES

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The elephant was strong enough to treat poor Duncy rather rough. "Hey, stop a minute," Duncy cried, "till I get on my feet."

"I don't like being jerked around and dragged along the bumpy ground. When I agreed to play, I thought that you'd be more discreet."

The little beast, however, went still faster. Duncy's strength was spent, and he exclaimed, "All right! Go on! I'll let go of the rope."

"Just keep on racing all you can. I'm going to tell the Midget Man. When you return, he'll scold you. Anyway, that's what I hope."

The next thing that the tired lad knew, into the air his two feet flew. He turned a funny somersault and landed on his knees.

The elephant ran out of sight and Duncy said, "Oh, he's all right. He's merely having lots of fun. I guess he likes to tease."

Then he jumped up and looked around and said, "The Tines must be found. Gee, if I don't return real soon, they'll think that I am lost."

"I know they'll all laugh heartily and start right in at kidding me when I explain to them how I've been jerked and bumped and tossed."

Then, as he hiked along the ground, he heard a real strange thundering sound. He knew it wasn't thunder, though, because the sun was bright.

Once more the sound came, nearer still. Then Duncy got a sudden thrill. He stood still for a moment, and then ran with all his might.

You really couldn't blame the lad. It was a sudden shock he'd had. A herd of midget buffaloes appeared not far away.

Poor Duncy shortly shouted, "Gee! I fear that they will trample me. I'll have to keep on running. This is my unlucky day."

Everyday Religion

"MY GOD! MY GOD! WHY?"

By Dr. Joseph Fort Newton

Of all cries ever heard upon earth, the most shattering was the cry of Christ upon the Cross. As He drank the dregs of His cup, for one brief, black bitter moment, He felt that God had forsaken Him. Aye, is it that He, too—the strongest, whitest, sweetest soul the earth has known—felt a sense of gray eternity, of suns grown cold, of voices calling without sound across a frozen void?

It comforts us to know that the short, sharp word "Why" darted like a dagger through His heart, too. Even as it pierces our hearts at every turn of the road. Why is life so hard? Why are the lowliest things crushed by the tramp of heavy years? Why is the cup of death forever pressed to the lips of love? Why pain, evil and death? Why is wrong so often on a throne and right so often on a cross?

Such questions besiege us on every hand—they come early and stay late. Every life is full of unanswered questions which lacerate the heart and baffle the mind. Time itself a riddle, solves some riddles but the darkest mysteries of life remain. Did Edmund Burke ever forget his beautiful boy, or cease to wonder why his bright face paled too early? Never; he carried the hurt in his heart when he went away!

What is God like? Is He indeed the Father and Friend of the soul? Is life worth while, and is there a thread of all-sustaining purpose running through it? Is death the end of all? Are all the high values of our fleeting life erased in a blur of dust? Or is death an awakening, a dawn, the opening of a gate? Why did Jesus and two thieves meet the same cruel, muddy death? Why such hideous, senseless suffering?

Yes, Jesus asked "Why?" but He did not falter; He did not give up. He waited, and the shadow lifted. If He did not tell us the answer to our questions, He did show us the answer. At the end He uttered the little prayer which His mother had taught Him to pray at night: "Father into Thy hands I commend my spirit." And there was light at eventide, as the dark Cross stood out, grim and forbidding, against the evening sky!

THAT you should heartily support any plan that is for the good and the glory of your home city. Development does not come unassisted.

If you don't keep your eyes open for every opportunity that passes your way, they will go on to some other city.

Some other city is always trying to entice them their way. Cities must always be made attractive to the people with capital before they can be developed very far.

New industries won't tarry long in looking over a city as a prospective location unless the living and business conditions are good.

A city may have all the advantages in the world, but it can't get anything or anywhere until it shows a progressive spirit. As long as a city lacks that spirit and where the citizens show a lack of loyalty to their city, just so long will a city stand still or progress backward.

In many cities the citizens fail to appreciate the worth of the home city.

Lack of home pride will hold any city back.

Every citizen should be proud of the home city. It is worthy of their every thought and effort.

Minna Reichardt was born in Stutenheimer, Germany, December 26, 1871. She came to America with her parents and one brother in 1886 and settled in Nelson, Ill. She later went to Chicago where she was united in marriage to Gustav Mueller on June 27, 1891. To this union ten children were born, nine of whom are still living: Clara Traynor, Walter Mueller, Martha Miller, Lillian Nelson, Sophie Clark, Louisa Enichen, Fred Mueller, Paul Mueller and Mae Hufford. She passed away at the family residence at 2:30 P. M. on April 4. There are 15 grandchildren.

She is Just Away

You cannot say, you must not say

That she is dead. She is just away!

With a cheery smile, and a wave of the hand,

She has wandered into an unknown land

And left us dreaming how very fair

It needs must be, since she lingers there:

So think of her faring on, as dear

In the love of There as the love of Here

Think of Her still as the same, and say

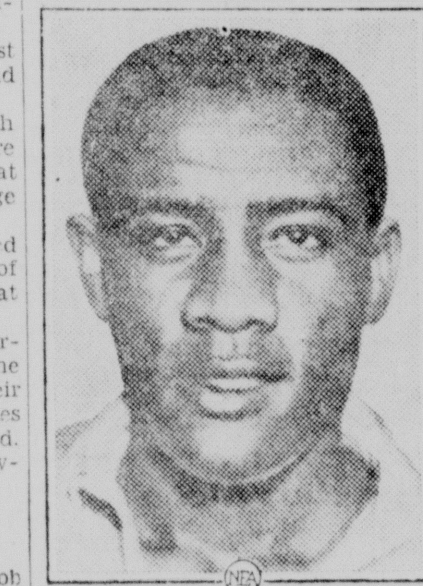

She is not dead. She is just away.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

A BOOK A DAY

PARIS BEFORE THE UPRISING

By Bruce Catton

During the years just before the French Revolution an observant and caustic Frenchman, Louis-Sebastian Mercier, wrote a vast 12-volume work, "Le Tableau de Paris," telling just what life in Paris was like. Now Helen Simpson has translated and edited this work, and the result is a meaty volume, "The Waiting City," which is both entertaining and uncommonly instructive.

You can dip into this book anywhere—Mercier's chapters are very short—and learn something surprising about the Paris of Louis XVI.

The streets, in wet weather, are quagmires, Mercier complains. The caves on the houses have spouts which pour waterfalls onto all pedestrians. Traffic is dangerous because of the way the carriages of the nobility whirl along.

Bankruptcies, he remarks, "are so frequent as to be no disgrace"; business confidence is gone and "fall and grow rich is the motto now." He complains—away back in the 18th century!—that bankers are the rulers of France and that their devious tricks are past an honest man's understanding.

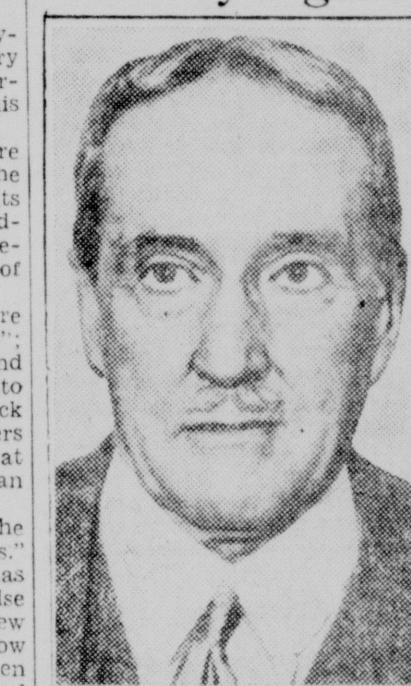

The Parisian barber shop he calls "the abyss of all uncleanness." He is encouraged because he has found a dentist who can make false teeth "with which you can chew anything you fancy, no matter how tough." He protests that women insist on being thin and diet and drink vinegar constantly to gain that end; and he asserts that the only women in Paris who wear bloomers are actresses, and they wear them because the police require them to do so. Paris is well-policed, anyway, he says, and "dangerous" rioting has become a moral impossibility—less than a decade before the Revolution!

GOOD THOUGHTS

We frequently read in biographies that people of reputation made a practice of applying themselves assiduously to duty. However simple the work, they gave it full attention. True greatness never shirks a duty; it is always ready to serve in a reliable and sensible manner. And such greatness is attained only as one patiently seeks to establish the line of worth-while activity.

At the same time came the disciples unto Jesus, saying, Who is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven? And Jesus called a little child unto him, and set him in the midst of them and said, Whosoever therefore shall humble himself as this little child, the same is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven.

That man is great, and he alone. Who serves a greatness not his own. For neither praise nor self: Content to know and be unknown: Whole in himself.

—Lord Lytton.

Nothing can make a man truly great but being truly good and partaking of God's holiness.

—Matthew Henry.

The greatest man is he who chooses the right with invincible resolution, who resists the sorest temptations from within and without, who bears the heaviest burdens cheerfully, who is calmest in storms and most fearless under menace and frowns, whose reliance on truth, on virtue, on God, is most unflinching. I believe this greatness to be most common among the multitudes whose names are never heard.

—Channing.

NACHUSA LUTHERAN CHURCH. Greater love has no man than when he gives his life for his friends. So Jesus said and did. But the greatness of God's love to man appears amazingly when on Easter it is considered in contrast to human wickedness. Then the risen Christ met the foulest, dead ever committed against God with unconditional forgiveness by saying to bewildered and terror stricken sinners. "Peace be unto you. If you remit the sins of any they are remitted." Love so amazing so divine in its forgiveness is the theme of the Easter Communion at our church next Sunday morning at 10:30.

Come and rejoice in the redeeming presence of God.

JUDGES EDWARDS, EMERSON, HEER ARE NOMINATED

Republicans Unanimous For Sitting Jurists Of This Circuit

Indicating there is complete harmony within their ranks, Republicans of the fifteenth judicial circuit Thursday afternoon re-nominated the three sitting circuit court judges for re-election at the judicial election to be held Monday, June 5. The judicial gathering was held in the Circuit Court rooms in Freeport and Judges Harry Edwards, Dixon; William J. Emerson, Oregon; H. L. Heer, Galena, were honored with nominations, without opposition. Each of the three jurists had previously been endorsed by each of the five county organizations of the fifteenth district. The three judges were present at the convention and spoke briefly following the nominations.

Nearly two hundred delegates from the five counties attended the convention. The counties included are Jo Daviess, Stephenson, Carroll, Lee and Ogle.

The meeting was opened by Attorney H. C. Warner, Dixon, Republican chairman for the sixth Supreme Court district. A temporary organization was then effected and later a permanent organization.

Besides the three sitting judges a former judge from this circuit, Franklin J. Stransky, was among those present. Mr. Stransky is chairman of the Republican state central committee. While his residence is at Savannah he is a member of a well known Chicago law firm. He was accompanied by his son, Franklin U. Stransky, State's Attorney of Carroll county.

Harold D. James, Chairman of the convention, was chosen as temporary chairman of the convention, and Ralph M. Eaton, Mt. Carroll, was named as temporary secretary. The temporary organization was later made permanent.

The names of the three sitting judges were placed in nomination by Franklin J. Stransky, of Savannah, on behalf of the Carroll county delegation. These nominations were seconded by John C. McKenzie, of Elizabeth, on behalf of the Jo Daviess county delegation, by H. C. Warner, Dixon, on behalf of the Lee county delegation, by County Judge Leon Zick, of Oregon, on behalf of the Ogle county delegation, and by Robert P. Eckert, Jr., of Freeport, on behalf of the Stephenson county delegation.

ENGINEER NEW CHICAGO MAYOR FOR TWO YEARS

Council Choses Head Of South Park Board To Lead City

Chicago, April 14—(AP)—A one-time student undertaker who abandoned his mortician's apprenticeship to take up a pick, shovel and axe to start at the bottom of an engineer's career, today was at the helm of the country's second city.

He is Edward J. Kelly, whose Irish parents, Stephen and Helen Kelly, apprenticed him to an undertaker. He got out of that business and worked his way to the top of the engineering profession.

Kelly, 56-year-old six-foot Democrat, who was president of the city's South Park system for nine years and director of a $120,000,000 Sanitary District improvement project, was elected late yesterday by the city council as "World's Fair Mayor" to succeed Anton J. Cermak, fatally shot at Miami, Fla. He was named after the veteran Democratic leader Patrick A. Nash, 70, declined the honor because of his age.

The office, which he is to hold until April 1935, comes to him at a time when his chief problem will be to lift Chicago from the financial quagmire in which it has been wallowing for the past few years. He promised to do "the best job I can" and began by naming a proxy to sign tax anticipation warrants for $1,700,000 with which officials hope to make a partial payment to the city's 14,000 unpaid school teachers, who are threatening to abandon their posts.

"Machine" Cry Heard There were cries from Republican members of the council of "Democratic machine politics," after Kelly had been named, and they threatened to contest his selection as illegal. They had tried to force a primary and election on the mayorship and opposed legislation adopted by the state Assembly permitting the council to make its own selection.

Acting Mayor Frank J. Corr resigned immediately upon Kelly's election, which was by unanimous vote of the Democratic members. Three Republicans declined to vote.

Is Chicago Product Kelly is a Chicago product. He was born here and it was here he got his inspiration to become an engineer by watching a group of workmen lay out of the World's Fair of 1893. That sight caused him to give up undertaking as a life's work and pick up an axe to yield it for the sanitary district in 1894.

Sidelights In News In Capital Of United States

By HERBERT PLUMMER

Washington — Word that J. Reuben Clark, ambassador to Mexico in the Hoover administration, had turned from politics to accept a high post in the Mormon church was received with more than casual interest by Washington political observers.

It may possibly mean a clarification of the senatorial situation in Utah at the next election.

Utah's senior senator, William H. King, serving his third term, faces an election next year. Clark ran against King the last time, coming up from Mexico City, incidentally, to do so.

Whether Clark has removed himself definitely from the political scene in Utah remains to be seen. His new position, next to the presidency of the Mormon church, is one of the two highest ranking offices in it.

However, former Senator Smoot of Utah was the ranking member of the "quorum of 12" of that same church while he was in the senate—in line for the church presidency itself.

A Record Of Success

Were the complexion of politics to change in Utah before next year Clark might stand in a good position to run against King again.

His record as ambassador to Mexico, where he went as successor to the late Dwight Morrow, was rated highly successful. Not a great deal was heard about him in Mexico City, but that, according to the diplomatic way of judging things, might be regarded just another way of saying that he was doing a good job all the while.

At any rate, when he left his post at the close of the Hoover administration the President said of him: "Never have our relations with Mexico been lifted to such a high point of confidence and co-operation, and there is no more important service in the whole foreign relations of the United States than this."

Behind The Scenes

Clark carried on at Mexico City the remarkable work that Dwight Morrow had done. Actually there are those at the state department in Washington who will tell you that Clark had much to do with the success of Morrow's policy in Mexico.

He had an important part in shaping Morrow's policy at any rate. And until Morrow left Mexico City to enter the senate Clark

AMUSEMENTS

APOLLO THEATRE
in CHICAGO

Only a few days remain before the introduction to Chicago of one of the most outstanding dramatic productions of recent years—Maurice Schwartz's presentation of the highly colorful Yiddish drama, "Yoshe Kalb," which opens at the Apollo theatre on April 20.

Not since the arrival of Mei Lang Fang, the Chinese star, and the Rheinhardt troupe offering Tolstoy's "Redemption" with Alexander Moissi, has there been such widespread interest over an unusual theatrical event, for "Yoshe Kalb" bridges the barrier of language through its stirring story, its pagant, its color, and its magnificent acting. Schwartz is bringing the complete New York company of over 70 players intact, instead of recasting some of the lesser roles here.

"Yoshe Kalb" is strong in pantomime, hence universal in appeal, so that the language is secondary. It is now the outstanding hit of the Yiddish stage and will have played the greater part of a year by the time it leaves New York for Chicago.

"Yoshe Kalb" is a dramatization by Maurice Schwartz of a novel by I. J. Singer. It was printed in the Jewish Daily Forward in New York, where Schwartz read it, became interested in its unusual story and made a theatrical version of it. Its story is filled with folk-lore, mysticism, fantasy, and concerns

"Yoshe, The Simpleton," a brilliant Talmudic student who is pursued by one of the daughters of Chassidic Rabbi Melech (Maurice Schwartz). In its resultant mortal sin, the death of the girl, and its constant preying on his mind, Yoshe Kalb is accused of adultery, bringing plagues, and of being a Gidul, or restless spirit. At the end of the play he disappears, to continue his wandering over the face of the earth.

Maurice Schwartz plays the part of the wicked Rabbi Melech and Lazar Freed that of the accused youth. Both are superb in their roles. Supporting parts are played by the finest artists on the Yiddish stage. Schwartz also did the lighting and stage direction, which is in the Rheinhardt manner.

The Chicago engagement at the Apollo, starting April 20, will be limited because of the demand for the play in other cities.

MAYTOWN

By AGNES McFADDEN

MAYTOWN—Mr. and Mrs. Harold Willis and Miss Margaret Foley of Dixon spent Sunday here at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Foley.

Mrs. Charles McFadden has gone to Aurora to visit relatives.

There will be a dance and card party at St. Patrick's hall Thursday evening April 20. Leake's orchestra will furnish the music.

Euchre and five hundred will be played. Come and have a pleasant time on that evening.

The farmers have started to sow oats this week.

Mrs. Ray Montavon has returned home from the hospital and is getting along nicely.

William Foley was a Dixon visitor Tuesday.

Agnes McFadden was an Ambros business caller Saturday.

Father Leach of Dixon gave the sermon last Sunday afternoon at the Lenten services at St. Patrick's church here.

The smell of citronella oil temporarily stimulates the sense of sight.

Mildew can be removed from clothes by soaking them in buttermilk and then hanging them in the sun.

APPORTIONMENT AGAIN AN ISSUE IN GEN. ASSEMBLY

Abingdon Democrat Is Author Of Another
Proposal

Springfield, Ill., April 14—(AP)—Congressional reapportionment made its biennial appearance as an Illinois issue today with a plan to give Cook county half of the state's 27 Congressmen and to make changes in all but three of the present downstate districts.

Rep. Frank McClure, Abingdon Democrat, announced that hearings would be held next week on the tentative redistricting proposal, sponsored by a legislative commission.

Cook county, which has had ten Congressmen since the last reapportionment in 1901, would be given thirteen. Southern Cook county and four neighboring counties would be a separate district, the rest of the state would be recarved into thirteen more, doing away with the two Congressmen-at-Large.

Of the incumbents, James A. Meeks of Danville and D. C. Dobbins of Champaign, both Democrats, would be thrown into the same district.

Elimination of the Representatives-at-Large would cause Democratic conflicts at Belleville and Bloomington if the incumbents make 1934 campaigns.

One of the districts untouched is that represented by Henry T. Rainey, Speaker of the House.

From the Republican side of the House, a redistricting bill was introduced earlier in the session by Richard J. Lyons of Mundelein, but has not yet received committee consideration.

McClure's tentative redistricting is as follows:

Winnebago, Boone, McHenry and Lake counties, 271,917 population. Jo Daviess, Stephenson, Carroll, Ogle, Whiteside, Lee, DeKalb, Bureau and Putnam, 254,922.

Rock Island, Mercer, Henderson, Warren, McDonough, and Hancock, 14th district unchanged, 199,104.

Henry, Knox, Fulton, Schuyler and Adams, 15th unchanged, LaSalle, Marshall, Stark, Peoria and Tazewell, 307,328.

Grundy, Livingston, Woodford, McLean, Ford, DeWitt, Platt, Macon and Moultrie, 323,195.

Kankakee, Iroquois, Champaign, Vermillion, Douglas and Edgar, 273,500.

Mason, Menard, Cass, Brown, Pike, Scott, Morgan, Greene, Calhoun and Jersey, 20th unchanged, 158,262.

Logan, Sangamon, Christian, Macoupin, Montgomery and Bond, 276,513.

Madison and St. Clair, 301,005.

Shelby, Coles, Cumberland, Fayette, Clark, Effingham, Jasper, Crawford, Clinton, Marion and Jefferson, 255,511.

Clay, Richland, Lawrence, Edwards, Wayne, Wabash, Hamilton, White, Saline, Gallatin, Johnson, Massac, Pope and Hardin, 210,223.

Monroe, Washington, Randolph, Perry, Franklin, Jackson, Williamson, Union, Alexander and Pulaski, 286,996.

Kane, DuPage, Kendall and Will, population 338,612, with southern Cook county.

Shaw "Risks" New York Appearance

Here's George Bernard Shaw in New York—of all places! And granting interviews of all things! With characteristic bluntness, the Irish dramatist and firmly forewarned both "ordais" when he embarked on his world cruise. But ship news reporters entered him on deck when he touched at Manhattan for one lecture.

His Trial Next In Scottsboro Case

Next to be tried in the famous Scottsboro attack case is Charlie Weems, shown waiting in jail at Decatur, Ala., where a jury doomed to electrocution Haywood Patterson, first of the seven Negroes to be tried.

By diligent work the bank's officers and co-operation on the part of the depositors, practically 100 per cent of the depositors signed waivers of 40 per cent of their accounts. This provides a protective cash reserve. Inspection by the State Auditor's department showed the Ashton Bank to be in a sound state, but needing more cash to protect against possibilities of trouble with some slow paper.

Stockholders will not receive any dividends until all of the 40 per cent waivers have been repaid to the depositors, it was announced. It is believed that the waived accounts can probably be repaid within a year's time.

The planet Mercury, has no atmosphere. Spectroscopic photographs show it as a dry, sunbaked and waterless world.

MAINTENANCE OF WAGES WILL BE ROOSEVELT AIM

President Plans An Attack On Deflation In Future

Washington, April 14—(AP)—A double-bladed attack on deflation will be made soon by President Roosevelt, with moves to preserve wage levels and provide jobs.

The President listened sympathetically last night to proposals of American labor for a huge public works construction program, involving a bond issue of from four to six billions, and including a minimum wage clause in the prospective shorter work week legislation.

Besides considering these proposals, Roosevelt is looking very hopefully to his recommendations now before Congress to ease the debt burden on agriculture and small home owners as forward steps in the reconstruction program, now aimed more definitely at checking deflation.

The President has virtually completed a plan for a bond issue of several billions to finance new public construction. He was represented last night as ready to consider a federal minimum wage scale to spread work by shorter hours.

Miss Frances Perkins, Secretary of Labor, who accompanied the labor group to the White House, said later that she believed a federal minimum wage law "very feasible."

The White House callers included the spokesmen of the recent labor conference called here. The delegation: William Green, President of the American Federation of Labor; D. B. Robertson, President of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen; Donald Richburg, counsel of the Railway Labor Executives' Association; Miss Rose A. Schneiderman of the National Women's Trade Union League; and Sidney Hillman, President of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America.

The labor gathering at the White House represented both organized and unorganized labor and was "way beyond the scope of any one organization."

SETTLE DOWN TO LONG SCHEDULE

Some Good Pitching Predominated on Second Day

By Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr.
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The major leagues laid aside the opening day trappings today and settled down to the long march through the 154 game schedule that leads to the world's series while the batters in several important sectors wondered just what they could do about the kind of pitching that was being sent at them.

Fine weather, following the dismal start in the east, allowed all the clubs but the Boston Braves and New York Giants to get into action yesterday, adding some 48,000 fans to the attendance list for the inaugurations. A snow covered field at Boston delayed the Giant-Brave contest another day.

The world champion New York Yankees attracted more than 36,000 to their opening triumph over the Boston Red Sox and they treated the customers to a typical Yankee victory as a booming drive by Lou Gehrig in the first inning dropped into the bleachers for a home run with two on base. The final count was only 4-3 however, as the rebuilt Sox put up a real scrap and outdid the champions who did little otherwise with the offerings of Ivy Andrews, Bob Kline and Jack Welch.

Dodgers Beat Phillies

The other opener brought out about 12,000 fans who saw the Brooklyn Dodgers turn back the Philadelphia Nationals by a 5 to 4 count. A double steal by Jake Flowers and Al Lopez and the ability of southpaw William W. W. Clark to bear down in the pinches stood out among the things that ruined the day for the home fans.

The mid-season pitching that was in evidence Wednesday when the clubs first moved into action cropped up again although there was one notable slugfest and a few other indications of the arrival of the annual baseball and home run barrage.

The Pittsburgh Pirates got a four-hit pitching feat on top of their five-hit opener and turned back the Cincinnati Reds 5 to 2 to take an early but undisputed lead in the National League. Larry French southpawed the Reds into submission without giving a hit until the Bucs had bulgeed out a 4-0 lead ending Eppa Rixey, their former "jinx."

Collins Beat Bush

Bill Hallahan, St. Louis left-hander, and Guy Bush, Chicago's noted "Mississippi Mudcat" each granted six blows in a neat duel, but Hallahan had the backing of Jim Collins and won 3-1. Collins posted a homer with one on in the fourth and singled home a run in the ninth.

The Washington Senators, looking very threatening again, got both pitching and hitting as they trounced the Philadelphia Athletics' collection of rookies for the second time, 11-4. Earl Whitehill limited the A's to seven blows, most of them in the last three innings, while Washington hammered George Earnshaw and a couple of successors for six runs in the sixth. Goose Goslin topped off the triumph with a homer.

Rookie Got Homer

Bill Knickerbocker, Cleveland's newest rookie sensation, helped himself to a home run on his second day in the big league as his contribution of a ninth inning rally that netted the Indians six tallies and a 7-4 victory over Detroit. Up to the last inning the game had been a neat flinging contest between Fred "Pirpo" Marberry, making his first start for Detroit and Oral Hildebrand, with the Tigers holding the edge due to Hildebrand's win.

The Chicago White Sox and St. Louis Browns went to the other extreme, pounding the apple vigorously through eleven innings before a four run rally by the greatly revamped Sox brought them an 11-7 decision. Chicago got 20 hits off four throwers and St. Louis 14 off three. Every Chicago full-time player hit once or more with Manager Lew Fonseca clouting a homer and two singles. Sam West carried the Browns' batting burden with six straight hits.

Yesterday's Stars

Larry French, Pirates—Limited Reds to four singles for 5-2 victory.

Sam West, Browns and Lew Fonseca, White Sox—West made six straight hits; Fonseca batted in three runs with homer and two singles as Sox won 11-inning slugfest.

Jake Flowers, Dodgers—Wallop—two singles and scored on a double steal in opening victory over Phillies.

Ossie Bluege, Senators—Led attack on Athletics with three hits and three runs.

Jim Collins, Cardinals—Made three of Cards' six hits against the Cubs and drove in all three runs.

Lou Gehrig, Yanks—Clouted a home run with two on base and fielded brilliantly to lead in 4-3 victory over Red Sox.

Bill Knickerbocker, Indians—Hit home run with one on in six-run rally that beat Detroit 7-4.

Hooks and Slides

By BILL BRAUCHER
RAJAH AND RUTH

A day ago so before the big league season opened Rogers Hornsby pulled a tendon. The next item along that line probably will concern Babe Ruth. Here are two of the batting heroes of other days. This year finds them struggling for a place in the baseball sun.

The Rajah led his league for six consecutive years in hitting, from 1920 through 1925, and the lowest figure he batted in those years was .370. The Bambino led the league only once, 1924, with an average of .376 but his home run feats made the greatest batting card in the majors.

NOT SO MANY SLUGGERS

How many men in the majors today have batted 300 or better all their lives? Perusal of the records show there are 62 now playing, not a surprisingly large number. There are seven Yankees in the select circle, which may help to explain why this team is favored to repeat as a pennant winner.

Ruth is not among those who have batted 350 or better during their major league years, though he is next in line with 349. Five hitters are within that group—O'Doul of the Dodgers, Hornsby of the Cards, Simmons of the White Sox, Klein of the Phils and Paul Waner of the Pirates.

O'Doul leads the mob with a batting mark of .361, which seems to make him the best batter in the game, though Hornsby is only one point behind with .360. Simmons has a respectable mark of .358, and Klein is a point behind him with .357. Waner hits an even .350 and lets it go at that.

ONE OUT OF SIX

There are 30 players in the American League who are life-time .300 hitters. That means that one of every six men who came to the plate is a .300 batsman, figuring 23 players to each team. The ratio is about the same in the National League, which has 32 hitters with averages of .300.

SAVOLDI TAKES CLAIM TO TITLE VERY SERIOUSLY

Buys Self Overcoat And Takes In New York's Sights

New York, April 14—(AP)—"Jumping Joe" Savoldi, the Notre Dame line-buster who suddenly started "taking out" wrestlers and wound up flooring Jimmy Londos, is taking his claim to heavyweight championship laurels very seriously indeed. So seriously, in fact, that he has bought himself an overcoat.

"It was all right," he says, "to go around without a coat or hat when I was just a wrestler. Cold never bothers me. Now it's different. You've got to look like something when you're champion."

This novice youngster, who would have been an All-America full-back if he hadn't married in his senior year as Knute Rockne's star pupil and thus eliminated himself from South Bend football near the close of the 1930 season, already has a crick in his neck from looking at New York's tall buildings.

Joe has been here before, as a preliminary wrestler in the London troupe, but never amid the attention that now surrounds him, and with free time to take in sights. He said he accepted yesterday the "$100,000 offer" of a Toronto syndicate headed by Percy R. Gardner for a share in his managerial contract. Then, feeling he could afford it, he bought his new overcoat and hat before taking in the ball game.

LOVE GREATEST OF ALL FORCES SAYS CANTRELL

Large Audience Hears Evangelist Despite Storm Last Eve

A large audience turned out last night in spite of the rain to hear Grady Cantrell's sermon on "Love." It was pronounced by many one of the best messages yet delivered.

Arthur McKee returned from Chicago yesterday afternoon and was in charge of the music. He led in a very inspiring praise service. He sang as a solo, "Why Did He Love Me So?"

The young peoples' meeting was held in the Christian church at 6:45 in charge of Mrs. McKee. She will have charge of the union meeting at the Christian church Sunday evening at 6:00.

There will be two mass meetings for everybody at the tabernacle on Sunday. Rev. Cantrell will bring special Easter messages at both services. The afternoon service will be held at 2:30 and the evening service at 7:30. As announced previously, the meetings will continue all next week, coming to a close on Sunday night, April 23.

Visitors Present

Four people from Polo were noticed in the audience last evening. The previous evening a carload from Muscatine, Ia., visited the services.

The song service last evening was shortened somewhat and Rev. Cantrell preached a brief discourse, so that the entire service was over at 8:45. Mr. McKee will lead in a great song service tonight and will sing a solo. There will be the usual Saturday night service tomorrow night, opening at 7:30. The Saturday night audiences have been large and great interest manifested in them.

A new feature will be introduced at Sunday night's service. It will be the "Hallelujah March." Instead of the usual run offerings everybody wishing to make a gift to help the revival will deposit the offering at the foot of the cross. It is hoped by the campaign committee that enough will be received by Sunday night to cover the necessary expenses so that no more offerings need be taken until the free-will offering for the evangelist the last Sunday.

A brief synopsis of Rev. Cantrell's sermon of last evening follows:

"Love is the greatest force in the world. Yes, it is even stronger than hate. Many times, as in war, men hate only because of fear of losing something they love.

Love Divine

"Love is from God. Jesus said 'God is Love.' Next to God's love the greatest love we know is the love of women. They love more than men. They are God's last creation and, therefore, best. What can surpass the love of a mother?"

"A strange thing about love is that the object of love need not respond to it nor do anything to call it forth. The little baby in its mother's arms does nothing to call out that love, but the mother loves it just the same.

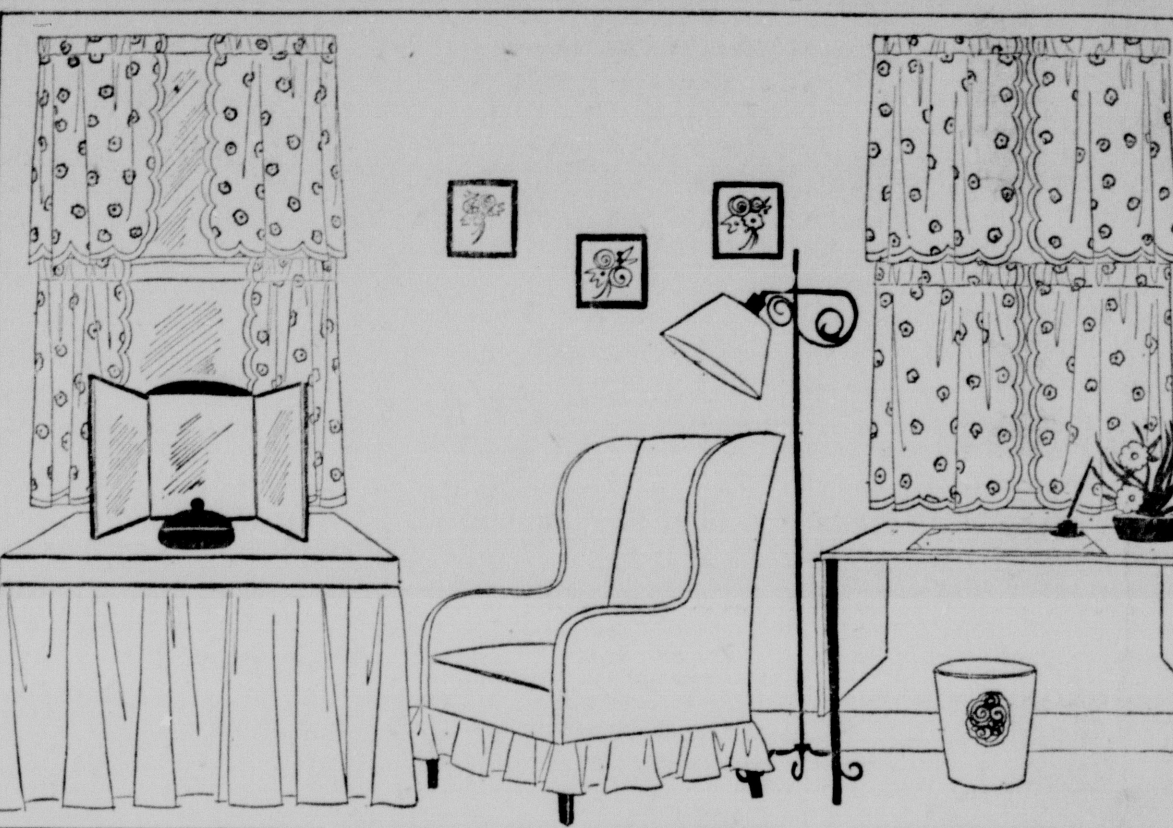

"God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son to die for us. We cannot understand His love. It is too deep and mysterious for us to understand. But the fact of His love is demonstrated in what He was willing to do for us.

Drawn From Low to High Life

"In the world around us we notice a remarkable thing. Life does not reach up from a lower level and thereby lift itself to a higher. But on the other hand, we see life from the plant kingdom reaching down into the mineral kingdom and transforming the inanimate matter into life of a higher realm. The seed dropped into the ground has the power to appropriate the dead matter around it and make it live. Then the animal reaches down into the plant kingdom and appropriates it and transforms it into still a higher realm. Thus the plant kingdom supports a higher form of life, the animal. Then man feeds upon animal or plant and transforms them into still a higher life."

"Thus the Kingdom of Heaven reaches down into human life and transforms it into the spiritual realm. God translates us into the Kingdom of His dear Son that we

—BE YOUR OWN DECORATOR— Your Sewing Room—A Cheery Spot for Guests

A Little Planning Will Make It A Cozy Place

By Dorothy Patz

A sewing room can lead a happy "double life" to the relief of the busy home-maker and the pleasure of the unsuspecting guest who is lucky enough to occupy it. Just a little planning when you fix up your sewing room will do the trick. One particularly successful room of this sort was done in the following manner:

Because of two windows facing south a cool blue-green paint was decided upon for walls, with all the grooves and moldings of the woodwork picked out in dark blue. The walls made an ideal background for small water colors, silhouettes of nautical prints, the frames of which were painted very bright red and grouped three on each wall.

The problem of letting in all possible light, to facilitate sewing, and at the same time combining cheer to welcome a weary guest, was solved by two tier chintz curtains.

Curtains Match Walls

Material with a background matching the walls, printed in small flowers of red, purple and green, made the curtains, finished with a one-inch pleated edging of red chintz. The tops were pinched, with rings sewed to the back.

They were strung on a rod, the rings being big enough to slide may enjoy an eternal and higher existence than that of earth. It is all accomplished through Christ who sacrificed himself for us. No one who does not accept Christ can share that life. It is through Him that we are lifted into heavenly places."

Price of Love

"Love always means sacrifice. One cannot truly love unless he is willing to give of his very life for the happiness of the object of his love. The desire for mere possession is not love. 'Love seeketh not her own,' but seeks only the good of the one beloved."

"When God looked down from the battlements of heaven and saw what a sin ridden bunch we humans were, He knew that it would take something more wonderful and great than we had ever known to redeem us from sin. No one in heaven was found able to redeem man but One. He loved mankind and loved His Son. But he so loved us that he was willing to send His Son to earth to be born as a baby and to grow to manhood in order to identify himself with us. And then to die for us! Can we ever understand it? No, not on earth at least.

easily. Curtains below the sill would have hindered the work in a busy workroom.

At one window a sewing machine demurely posed as a dressing table dressed in a blue green chintz dress made by cutting a piece of material to fit the top of the machine, and a six-inch band with red cable cord at each end meeting the seams at the top and the full skirt at the bottom. Finished, it simply slipped on the machine, no openings being used.

An expensive looking triple mirror, resting on the 'dressing-table' was composed by buying three mirrors in the five and ten cent store, the center one being larger and hinged together with tiny screws and the frame painted red.

The thoughtful hostess had one box enameled in green and painted red inside to hold the toilet articles for the woman guest and another for the man.

A small dresser so low that it only had two drawers was painted to match the walls. (One of the tricks of creating space is by painting the furniture and having fabrics matching the walls as near as possible.)

The other window balanced the "dressing table," by having a board 25 inches wide and 36 inches long bracketed to the wall and two legs supporting it for further strength raised the same height as the machine, with a drop leaf board 25 inches long on each side, that made ample space for cutting when raised and a charming desk with its green blotter, red writing accessories and box of stationery when lowered.

Bed Frame Covered

Personally, I don't like artificial flowers, but when fresh ones are "out," a few well selected artificial sprays on a desk say things to a guest.

One could never overlook the tin waste basket bought in a five and ten cent store, painted red within and green without, having a lovely water color print pasted on and coated with shellac.

An inexpensive iron bed's ugly arms were covered in slipcovers to match the curtains. By pinning two lengths of materials over the arms and cutting to fit, closing the seams with a red cable cord, and finishing with a flounce the slips are easily removed and unusually good with the spread of course.

Spreads for Day Beds

Spreads for daybeds are made by using a length of 36-inch material covering the length of the bed and edging it in cable cord after nine inches are left free on each side to tuck under the mattress. A six-inch band having a red cord is sewed to it before adding a four-yard flounce. (Two yards of material cut in half lengthwise is generally used for the flounce on a day bed.)

The pillows were encased in mauve linen day pillow slips corded in red at the seams and snapped at the closing. Old slipcovers dyed often rejuvenate a room, the one in this room being a tan linen on dyed purple.

The room had a dark green linoleum rug with the border of the floor painted in a darker shade. A small rag rug repeated the colors of the room. At very little expense this practical room radiated a charm any hostess could well be proud of.

When we cross over on the other shore we may then be able to understand it all!"

Here the evangelist gave a most vivid picture of the crucifixion scene. The anguish of Jesus, the pain, the horror was depicted in a most dramatic way. The human cries of Jesus on the cross were differentiated from the cries of the spirit. Eternal love said, "Father forgive them, they know not what they do."
